

Welcome to Myall Park Botanic Garden

Home of the Grevillea hybrids 'Robyn Gordon', 'Sandra Gordon', 'Merinda Gordon', and 'Dorothy Gordon' popular Australian horticultural plants.

Myall Park Botanic Garden has long been recognised for its important collection of Australian flora and fauna. The Garden began in 1941 by Dave Gordon and has been owned by a not-for-profit Company since 1992.

As well as preserving the Garden's identity, this Company under the leadership of honorary Directors also aims to educate others about the importance of flora and fauna preservation.

Here is the ideal spot to get away from it all, no telephone, no television.

Simply peace, quiet and bird song.

The Directors warmly welcome you to this unique Garden. They hope that you enjoy your experience of Australian native plants and animals, and hope that you will return again and again to see the Garden in all its seasons, each with its own wondrous delights!
